HOLIDAY

CONSUMER PROTECTION
GUIDE

Dear Fellow Floridians,

Happy holidays! Once again, as the holiday season approaches, the Office of Attorney General is happy to offer this 2017 Holiday Consumer Protection Guide, a compilation of product safety information and consumer tips assembled to help you enjoy a safer and more satisfying shopping experience.

The guide includes tips on purchasing items online and avoiding charity scams. We have also included a list of items recalled by the U.S. Consumer Products Safety Commission in the past year, specifically focusing on children's toys and items that pose particular risk to kids and teens. These products have been recalled by their manufacturers because of safety and health concerns. Products recalled include toys, furniture, sporting goods and other home products that may be unsafe for children. I urge you to review this list for items that may need to be immediately removed from your home. Please also keep this guide handy and review it as you purchase and receive gifts this holiday season.

If you have any questions on product recalls or any of the other issues discussed in this guide, feel free to contact my Citizens Services hotline at 1-866-966-7226, or visit our website at www.MyFloridaLegal.com. You can also find a comprehensive list of recalled items year-round at the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's website www.CPSC.gov/en/Recalls.

Have a safe and happy holiday season!

Sincerely,

Holiday Shopping Tips

The holidays are a time to be especially mindful of ways your purchases can cost you more than expected. Below are a few tips to ensure that you keep your money safe while getting the most out of it:

- ❖ When shopping online, it's wise to pay with a credit card instead of a debit card, if possible. Both payment methods allow you to dispute a charge if the merchandise never arrives or is different from what was ordered. However, with a debit card, the purchase will have already been deducted from your bank account and it may take days or weeks to have it returned.
- ❖ When ordering online, look to ensure that your browser has a secure connection. In the address bar, a padlock should appear if your browsing session is secure.
- ❖ Some debit and credit card providers offer one-time card numbers to be used for online transactions to further protect your financial information. Contact your card provider to see if they offer such a service.
- ❖ Don't forget, when shopping online there are often additional costs, such as shipping and handling fees. Be sure to account for those additional charges when comparing prices across multiple websites.
- ❖ Keep your receipts and be sure you understand retailers' return policies and periods so you can return any unwanted item(s) in a timely manner and get a full refund.
- ❖ Some retailers may offer layaway plans or other payment plans so you can pay for that must-have holiday gift in installments over time or at a later date. Before you agree to such a plan, be sure to ask whether the retailer charges fees to use its payment programs and whether the payments and fees are refundable if a purchase is canceled or must be returned.

Holiday Charity Scams

While the holiday season often puts many of us in a kind and charitable mood, be on the lookout for scam artists who seek to take advantage of that spirit of giving. Here are some tips to help you avoid charity scams this season:

- ❖ Before donating, be sure to confirm the charity is legitimate. Check to see if the charity is registered with the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services at www.800helpfla.com or by calling 1-800-HELP-FLA. You may also contact the Better Business Bureau's Wise Giving Alliance at www.give.org or Charity Navigator at www.charitynavigator.org to determine whether the charity you are donating to has any complaints against them.
- ❖ Do your homework and review any solicitation carefully. Search online to see what others may be saying about the charity. Additionally, be sure you understand how much of the donation will actually go toward the work of the charity as opposed to administrative and fundraising expenses. To learn more about a registered charity's spending, visit www.800helpfla.com and click on "Check-A-Charity."
- ❖ Never give your credit card number or bank account information to someone who has called or emailed you unsolicited. If you are interested in donating to a charity that has contacted you, ask them to mail you a pledge form and information about the charity. Legitimate charities should have no problem with this request.
- ❖ Watch for similar sounding charities. It's not unusual for scam artists to choose names that sound like the names of legitimate, widely-known charities.
- ❖ Know the difference between tax exempt and tax deductible. An organization that is tax exempt does not have to pay taxes, but it does not necessarily mean that a contribution made to it is tax deductible. To check whether an organization is eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions, go to <https://apps.irs.gov/app/eos/>.

Product Recalls

With so many purchases made during the holiday season, it is more important than ever to be vigilant about the safety of the products you purchase.

What follows is a compilation of 2016-17 product recalls in an easy-to-use guide that I hope you will consult as you make your holiday gift purchases. The guide reproduces details about recalled toys, baby items, sporting and recreational goods, furniture and household products that may pose a particular risk to children and teenagers. These items were among the 250 products recalled by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission between November 15, 2016 and October 31, 2017. For more information regarding these products or for a comprehensive list of product recalls, please visit cpsc.gov/en/Recalls/.

Dangerous and defective products are the subject of recalls every year. When a product is recalled, the law requires manufacturers and retailers to remove the products from their shelves. However, products subject to recall do sometimes slip by undetected and may remain on shelves or may have been purchased before the recall. Many products may also continue to be offered for sale online well after the recall through various online reseller websites. Therefore, it is always important to do your research to make sure that the products you are buying are safe and free of defect.

Taking a few minutes now, before you make your holiday purchases, to peruse this collection of recalled items will ensure a safer and more enjoyable holiday for you and yours.
