January 2008

Dear Governor Crist, President Pruitt, and Speaker Rubio:

It is my honor and privilege to present the 2006-2007 Annual Report for the Division of Victim Services and Criminal Justice Programs as required by Section 960.045(1)(c), Florida Statutes.

This annual report focuses on the Division's accomplishments and program enhancements which allow assistance to a greater number of victims of crime than in the history of the program. Stakeholders in these programs include victims, the court system, law enforcement agencies, insurance carriers, individual employers, victim advocates, treatment providers, crime prevention officers, school resource officers, crime stopper organizations, and the federal government.

Florida enjoys a prominent position throughout the nation because of its responsiveness to victims, its versatility, and adaptability to legislative and technological advancements. As future enhancements occur, the Division programs will increase their effectiveness and efficiency in providing funding on behalf of victims of crime in Florida, as well as providing innovative and cutting edge training programs for law enforcement and allied professionals.

Sincerely,

Emery A. Gainey
Director

INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

This report covers the period July 1, 2006, through June 30, 2007. It includes an overview of the program functions and serves as the annual report mandated by Section 960.045(1)(c), F.S.

The Crimes Compensation Act was enacted by the 1977 Florida Legislature, thereby acknowledging the need for government financial assistance for victims of crime. The stated intent of the legislation is “. . . that aid, care, and support be provided by the state, as a matter of moral responsibility” (Section 960.02, F.S.) for crime victims. Accordingly, the division provides financial and direct services to victims of crime, administers federal grants to fund victim services at the local level, and provides comprehensive training for law enforcement and allied professionals.

STATUTORY AUTHORITY

The referencing authority governing the provision of services to victims of crime is found in Chapter 960, F.S. The Crimes Compensation Trust Fund is administered by the Office of the Attorney General through the Division of Victim Services and Criminal Justice Programs (division). The division is comprised of the bureaus of Advocacy and Grants Management, Criminal Justice Programs, and Victim Compensation. Through the coordination of services, the division seeks to meet the needs of crime victims by providing victim compensation, specialized direct services, training, and technical assistance, and promoting the establishment of local victim service programs throughout the state.

LEGISLATIVE UPDATES

The 2007 Legislature enacted several changes to Chapter 960, F.S., (See CS/HB 989) expanding the rights and services for victims as follows:

- Allows a victim advocate to be present (at the request of the victim of a sexual offense) during the forensic medical exam;
- Provides that a criminal justice official (law enforcement officer, prosecuting attorney, or other government official) may not ask for or require a lie detector test to be taken by a victim before a law enforcement agency will investigate a sexual offense allegation;
- Requires the court to order prescribed defendants to undergo an HIV test within 48 hours after the court orders such testing (previously there was no required time limitation);
- Requires reimbursement from the Crime Victims’ Services Office for the victim’s initial forensic medical exam, regardless of whether the sexual offense victim reported the offense or cooperated with the investigation (which was previously required);
- Increases the forensic medical exam reimbursement maximum amount from $250 to $500; and
- Permits a crime victim who is a Florida resident to be compensated when the crime occurs outside Florida, whether in another state or outside the United States, if such crime would otherwise be compensable had it occurred in Florida.

PROGRAM FUNDING

The Division administers three trust funds that are unique to their program functions. Each is restricted to the programs set forth in its statutory authority.

Crimes Compensation Trust Fund

The Crimes Compensation Trust Fund (CCTF), authorized by Section 960.21, F.S., receives offender-generated federal and state dollars to provide services to crime victims. Funding is derived from court-ordered assessments from offenders, including a mandatory court cost, a surcharge on fines, and restitution. Florida's share of federal Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) dollars¹ available during fiscal year FY 2006-2007 totaled $24,973,000 ($22,036,000 for local programs that provide direct services to victims and $2,937,000 for financial compensation to victims for losses incurred as a result of their victimization).

Appendix A provides a detailed breakdown of collections into the trust fund by source, county and judicial circuit. The primary source of revenue is the mandated $50 court cost, accounting for 77 percent of the $26,487,506 received from state (non-federal) sources. Of the $50, the clerk of the court retains $1 for administrative purposes and forwards the remaining $49 for deposit into the Crimes Compensation Trust Fund. When appropriate, the division also seeks to recoup compensation awards through court-ordered restitution and subrogation.

Total expenditure² of state and federal dollars from the Crimes Compensation Trust Fund for FY 2006-2007 was $52,965,290. The largest expenditure was $23,870,105 for awards to or on behalf of victims through victim compensation awards, including initial forensic physical exams for sexual battery offenses. The next highest expenditure was $20,621,549 for VOCA assistance grants awarded to victim service programs. The balance was used to cover salaries and benefits, operating capital outlay, expenses, other personal services, indirect costs, surcharge to general revenue, and refunds. See appendices A and B for a comparison of trust fund receipts and awards by judicial circuit and county and appendix C for a listing of VOCA assistance grant awards by judicial circuit and program name.

Crime Stoppers Trust Fund

The Crime Stoppers Act (Section 16.555, F.S.) is designed to administer grants for crime stopper organizations in their crime fighting programs and to establish a mechanism for private citizens to retain their anonymity when providing information relating to unsolved crimes. Section 938.06, F.S., imposes an additional surcharge of $20 on fines for criminal offenses, which is collected by the clerks of the courts to be deposited into the Crime Stoppers Trust Fund. Receipts this year totaled $4,979,157 and grant awards totaled $4,424,945. See appendix D for a listing of awards by program title and judicial circuit.

Florida Crime Prevention Training Institute (FCPTI) Trust Fund

Authorized by Section 16.54, F.S., the FCPTI Trust Fund is self-sustaining and is funded by tuition payments paid by training program participants. Prior year cash receipts carryover into the new fiscal year. Expenditures this year totaled $645,144.

¹Federal funds are awarded by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Justice Programs, Office for Victims of Crime.

²Total cash receipts and expenditure amounts are derived from the Cash Disbursements Report from the State Comptroller's Office.

BUREAU OF ADVOCACY AND GRANTS MANAGEMENT

The bureau provides regional victim advocacy and appellate notification to victims of crime, provides crisis response training and coordination, and also administers the address confidentiality program and federal VOCA assistance grants. As part of the outreach and clearinghouse functions, the bureau maintains a directory of victim service providers throughout the state, which may be accessed through the Attorney General's web page at <http://myfloridalegal.com/directory>. Other activities include publication of a biennial Legislative Synopsis that provides an overview of Florida laws relating to the rights of victims of crime and maintenance of the protocols for the initial forensic physical examination of adults and children who are sexually assaulted.

Address Confidentiality Program

Pursuant to Sections 741.401 through 741.465, F.S., this office administers the Address Confidentiality Program (ACP), which provides a substitute mailing address for relocated victims of domestic violence and serves as legal agent for receipt of mail and service of process. In addition, staff provides training and certifies applicant assistants statewide to assist eligible victims. The ACP is also intended to prevent public access to client information through voting records. This year's activities include:

- 601 active program participants
- 181 applicant assistants trained
- 171 new applications processed

Advocacy

Regional victim advocates serve as liaison for the Attorney General's Office and local victim service agencies, providing a direct conduit between victim services organizations and this office to promote the awareness of victims' rights. To advance the goal of ensuring these rights are afforded to the state's diverse populations, specific outreach initiatives are directed toward the Haitian and Spanish speaking populations in south Florida. To ensure involvement in establishing and maintaining victim service coalitions in the various communities, advocates are located throughout the state and serve geographical areas comprised of single or multiple judicial circuits.

Appellate Notification

Pursuant to Section 960.001, F.S., this office notifies victims of the right to be present at relevant proceedings, provides advocate accompaniment to court proceedings, explains the judicial process, informs victims of the decisions rendered by the appellate courts, and provides notice to victims of their right to be present at judicial proceedings. This year's activities include:

- 656 criminal (non-capital) appellate notices provided
- 3,004 (non-capital) services provided

Capital Cases

Also pursuant to Section 960.001, F.S., this office informs surviving victims and next of kin of the right to be present at judicial proceedings in state and federal courts, offers advocacy and court accompaniment, explains victims' rights in the executive clemency process, and coordinates special services during an active death warrant. This year's activities involved:

- 386 cases
- 1,272 survivors and next of kin

Crisis Response

Through the Attorney General's Statewide Crisis Response program, crisis response teams (CRTs) provide immediate crisis response for community crisis situations (e.g., traumatic events that are natural, accidental or deliberate), serves as liaison with other state and national emergency service providers, and develops and maintains protocols for mobilization under various emergency scenarios. There are approximately 800 crisis responders statewide. Each responder must complete a rigorous community crisis response team training in order to participate on a team. The teams are comprised of victim service professionals, law enforcement personnel, firefighters, mental health professionals, nurses, other allied professionals, and community members. All team members volunteer their time when deployed. This year's activities include:

- 17 crisis response incidents
- 601 crisis responders trained
- 4,254 volunteer hours used

VOCA Assistance Grants

The federal VOCA assistance grant program offers funding to local community providers for use in responding to the emotional and physical needs of crime victims, assisting victims in stabilizing their lives after their victimization, helping victims to understand and participate in the criminal justice system, and providing victims with a measure of safety and security. (Appendix C provides a listing of funded programs and award amounts.) The grant period is based on the federal fiscal year, October through September, although the grant process begins in January each year. This allows time for victim services programs/organizations to make application for funding and coordinate the requisite community approvals (i.e., contract approval by board of directors or board of county commissioners) so that contracts can be executed in advance of the effective date of the grant. The state's allocation of the federal fund is based on Florida's population in relation to all the other states and designated territories. This year's activities include:

- $24,430,317 awarded
- 228 programs funded
- $107,151 average grant amount
- 214,582 victims served through VOCA grants statewide

BUREAU OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE PROGRAMS

The Florida Crime Prevention Training Institute (FCPTI), located within the Bureau of Criminal Justice Programs, provides statewide public education and training programs for law enforcement personnel, school resource officers, victim advocates and other interested persons on crime prevention initiatives, school-based officer programs, victim advocacy and related criminal justice areas. In addition, the bureau administers the Convenience Business Security Act, Crime Stoppers and Urban League grants, the annual national conference on preventing crime in the black community, and the Council on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys.

Florida Crime Prevention Training Institute (FCPTI)

FCPTI courses are designed to provide comprehensive crime prevention training to Florida's law enforcement community, citizenry and industry to enable them to control crime by denying criminal opportunity and behavior. Authorized in Section 16.54, F.S., the FCPTI Revolving Trust Fund is self-sustaining and is funded by tuition payments paid by training program participants. Training schedules may be accessed at <http://myfloridalegal.com/crime>. This year's activities include:

- 73 courses
- 5,121 attendees
- 598 designations awarded

Crime Prevention

The crime prevention practitioner designation is awarded to those individuals who successfully complete a series of three comprehensive crime prevention courses offered through FCPTI. The curriculum includes instruction in basic crime prevention, commercial crime prevention, and residential crime prevention. To maintain the designation, practitioners are required to attend update courses every three years. There are approximately 3,145 crime prevention practitioners throughout the state. In addition, FCPTI continued its Elder Crime Practitioner and Crime Prevention through Environmental Design (CPTED) practitioner designation program. Approximately 25 percent of the state's law enforcement officers have received crime prevention training. Additional crime prevention training is evolving to respond to current trends and conditions. This year's crime prevention training activities included:

- 31 courses
- 3,485 attendees
- 235 designations awarded

School Resource Officer

The objective of the School Resource Officer (SRO) training is to enhance the skills of school-based professionals who deal with juvenile issues on a daily basis. The classes are designed for SROs, school administrators and staff, and other professionals who work with students in campus settings. The SRO curriculum includes an advanced training (i.e., salary incentive) course that has been approved by the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission. To obtain the SRO designation, officers must complete the 40-hour basic training plus an additional 90 hours of FCPTI juvenile-related courses. SRO classes are usually offered only during the summer months when school is not in session. This year's SRO training activities included:

- 6 training courses
- 228 attendees

The curriculum consists of victim services practitioner designation classes, advanced advocate training, and issue briefings. The designation program is a three-day course designed to improve the knowledge, skills, and abilities of service providers. This designation is valid for three years and may be renewed by providing evidence of 32 hours of training during the three-year period, including advanced advocate training. Advanced advocate training is designed to enhance the skills and abilities of experienced victim service providers. Issue briefings focus on current issues from a local perspective. The programs operate in Fort Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando, Saint Petersburg, Tallahassee, Tampa and West Palm Beach.

The Black-on-Black Crime Prevention Program is a public awareness and education effort to motivate the black community to support, promote and participate in crime prevention programs and activities. The Youth Crime Prevention and Intervention Program targets specific proactive strategies and activities to address and impact the problem of juvenile crime and to foster collaboration and improve communication among various agencies serving youth. This year's activities with these two programs included:

Since the inception of the program, FCPTI has trained and certified approximately 400 law enforcement officers who make periodic inspections of the convenience businesses in their geographical areas. Various types of claims processed by the bureau include victim compensation, property loss, domestic violence relocation assistance, and sexual assault forensic physical examinations. In addition, the bureau determines eligibility for state institutions claims and administers a toll-free information and referral service for victims of crime.

Victim Compensation Claims

Claims are received from crime victims who seek financial assistance for economic loss (lost wages/support, disability), funeral expenses, domestic violence relocation, property loss, and reimbursement of other out-of-pocket and treatment expenses directly related to a crime injury. A Notice of Rights form is included with each denial notice and may act as a petition. The claimant may submit additional evidence with the petition proving eligibility, and based on this new information, the claim is reconsidered. When a satisfactory petition is received by the division, it is examined to determine whether material facts are at issue which would require the evidence to be weighed by an impartial hearing officer in an evidentiary hearing. The claimant is granted an informal hearing and given the opportunity to make an oral presentation to the Division Director when there are no material facts at issue. This year's appeals activities include:

- 89 claims reconsidered
