

Florida Crime Prevention Training Institute

2009-2010 Schedule of Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Training

Office of Attorney General
Bill McCollum

Introduction

The Florida Crime Prevention Training Institute (FCPTI) is pleased to present its 2009-2010 Schedule of Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Courses. The schedule contains innovative courses on elder issues designed for crime prevention officers and deputies, victim advocates, investigators, attorneys, medical personnel, citizens, local government officials, and professionals working with the elderly.

As always, FCPTI remains committed to providing quality training to persons working with the elderly. We look forward to working with you to build strong crime prevention programs in your communities.

FCPTI courses are developed in compliance with mandatory retraining criteria as set forth in Florida Statute 943.135. A certificate will be issued to each student upon satisfactory completion of the course. According to 932.7055, F.S., 938.15, F.S. and 318.21, F.S., the local agency administrator has the authority to approve the expenditure of local dollar funds.

HISTORY

In 1986, the Attorney General's Office began training specifically on elder issues with a series of one-day workshops across the state on "Fraud Against the Elderly." This led to the design of a five-day "Crimes Against the Elderly" course that was eventually adopted by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) as an "Advanced" course. With a growing senior population, there was an increase in elderly criminal victimization such as financial exploitation, abuse and neglect. To meet the demand for further training and a designation, the Attorney General's Office expanded training for law enforcement and those professionals who interact with this population on a daily basis. These courses provide participants with detailed information on the role of the law enforcement officer in combating senior crime, in establishing prosecutorial cases, and a comprehensive look at abuse and neglect.

INITIAL DESIGNATION

To earn the Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation, a participant must successfully complete eighty-eight hours of instruction offered through FCPTI within a period of three consecutive years. The requirement includes the forty-hour Crimes Against the Elderly course and two twenty-four hour courses. It is a prerequisite that the forty-hour course be completed first. The following is a description of the required courses:

- Crimes Against the Elderly is a forty-hour course with training designed to increase understanding of the laws affecting the elderly; recognizes specific crimes and the impact of those crimes; and familiarizes the participant with criminal justice and social service resources.
- Ageing Issues: A Comprehensive Approach is a twenty-four hour course that provides instruction on how aging impacts the community; comprehensive and multi-disciplinary approaches; determines differences in personal judgment; capacity to consent; addresses common addictions among the elderly; and the Florida Victims' Compensation program.
- Law Enforcement's Role in Elder Crime is a twenty-four hour course with focused instruction on the role law enforcement plays in elder abuse prevention; understanding Florida's residential facility system; abuse, neglect and sexual abuse of elderly persons; Florida law; and practical investigative techniques.

Students must pass a written examination at the conclusion of each course. Upon successful completion of the three required courses, the designation of Florida Elder Crime Practitioner will be awarded by the Attorney General's Office.

MAINTAINING THE DESIGNATION

The initial Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation is valid for a period of three years from the date that appears on the Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation certificate. To maintain the designation, a Florida Elder Crime Practitioner must successfully complete the twenty-four hour Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation Update course offered by FCPTI. Upon successful completion of a Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation Update course, the designation will be renewed for a period of three years from the date of the Update course.

- Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation Update is a twenty-four hour course which informs the practitioner of changes and to update them on new and the most recent elder issues and amended resources. The general format of the course is prevention, intervention and response to elder issues.

Elder Case Management – Investigation to Prosecution

September 15-17, 2009
Altamonte Springs
Tuition: $295
Course No. 182-09-01
Time: 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Description: It is estimated that more than 2.5 million older people in the nation are victims of some form of reported or non-reported abuse each year. The goal of this three-day class is to understand the elements of elder law and to educate attendees in confidently preparing the proper response and case management of an elder call. Through case studies and practical application, participants will learn to evaluate these complicated situations to determine whether law enforcement intervention is necessary or whether a referral to social services is the appropriate action. To understand law enforcement's role in elder abuse investigations, participants will discuss interview techniques; recognition and identification of evidence; and the legal and ethical aspects of these cases. Through teamwork, participants will enhance their knowledge and skills in formulating successful investigations and prosecutions.

Location & Lodging: This course will be held at the Embassy Suites Orlando North, 225 Shorecrest Drive, Altamonte Springs, Florida 32701 (I-4, exit 92). For reservations call (407) 834-2400. The room rate is $94.00 and reservations must be made by August 28, 2009.

How to Register: See registration information on pages 10-12. A tuition check must accompany the registration. For additional information, contact Margaret Boeth at (850) 414-3352.

Crimes Against the Elderly

January 25-29, 2010

Altamonte Springs

Tuition: $395

Course No. 172-10-01

Time: 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Description: Florida has many statutory provisions that directly relate to elderly adults within our state. This course will provide training designed to increase understanding of the laws as they have been written to protect Florida's elderly population. At the completion of instruction, participants should be able to identify elder issues that currently exist within our communities and recognize specific crimes and the impact of those crimes on the elderly populations. The participants will become familiar with criminal justice and social service resources available to enhance law enforcement's response to crimes against the elderly.

A strong effort has been made to ensure that each participant understands common perceptions associated with the aging process and develop the ability to recognize accurate aging process issues. Crimes associated with the aging process inclusive of abuse, neglect and exploitation, issues relating to the treatment of the victim, and recognition and investigation of crimes against the elderly are covered as well. This course is approved by the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission as an "advanced course" and is a salary incentive course for law enforcement officers who successfully complete an exam and meet the attendance requirements. This course is one of three courses necessary for the Florida Elder Crime Practitioner designation. The Broward County Sheriff's Office, Institute for Criminal Justice Studies is co-sponsoring this class.

Location & Lodging: This course will be held at the Embassy Suites Orlando North, 225 Shorecrest Drive, Altamonte Springs, Florida 32701 (I-4, exit 92). For reservations call (407) 834-2400. The room rate is $99.00 and reservations must be made by January 6, 2010.

Aging Issues: A Comprehensive Approach

March 10-12, 2010

Altamonte Springs

Tuition: $295

Course No. 174-10-01

Time: 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Description: Aging Issues: A Comprehensive Approach will give the students an understanding of the impact aging has on the community and how to develop a comprehensive approach to addressing these needs. The three-day course provides students with a clearer understanding of the term “Capacity to Consent” and takes an intensive look at addictions that affect our elderly but are often un-noticed. This course will also explore the use of multi-disciplinary teams; elder victimization; and take an in-depth look at wills, trusts and powers of attorney. The course is designed for patrol officers, crime prevention officers; community oriented policing officers, investigators, and victim advocates. This course is one of three courses necessary for the Florida Elder Crime Practitioner designation.

Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation Update

April 14-16, 2010

Altamonte Springs

Tuition: $295

Course No. 181-10-01

Time: 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Description: The general format of the Florida Elder Crime Practitioner Designation Update course is prevention, intervention and response to elder issues. The purpose of this three-day curriculum is to inform the practitioner of changes and to update them on new and most recent elder issues and amended resources. There will be a law update to include new law, changes in elder law and legislative issues. The agenda will include topics such as: program development information; projected initiatives; and other comparable programs. Another aspect of training will be on recent research of elder issues, including, but not limited to, dementia, abuse, neglect and exploitation, and medical issues. There will be an update on agencies affiliated with elder issues, such as, the Department of Children & Families; the Department of Elder Affairs; the Agency on Health Care Administration; the Office of the Attorney General, Medicaid Fraud; and the National Center on Elder Abuse.

Participants will share one program they have initiated since obtaining their Practitioner Designation. This will be a “Practitioner Exchange” and all participants will receive a copy of the information. Attendees must have received their designation in order to attend this class.

Location & Lodging: This course will be held at the Embassy Suites Orlando North, 225 Shorecrest Drive, Altamonte Springs, Florida 32701 (I-4, exit 92). For reservations call (407) 834-2400. The room rate is $89.00 and reservations must be made by March 25, 2010.
