COMPLAINT FOR INJUNCTIVE RELIEF,
CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES, AND OTHER EQUITABLE RELIEF

Plaintiff, Office of the Attorney General, State of Florida, Department of Legal Affairs (“Plaintiff” or “Attorney General”) sues Defendants, Wellness Program Services, LLC, a Florida limited liability company d/b/a Trusii (“Trusii”); Tru Fit Solutions, LLC, d/b/a Trusii International an administratively dissolved Florida limited liability company (“Tru Fit”); Christopher Charles Kennedy, an individual (“Kennedy”); Jeffrey Taraday, a/k/a Jeffrey Weinir, an individual (“Taraday”); Isara Palomino a/k/a Isara Palomino Ginesta a/k/a Sara Ginesta, an individual (“Ginesta”); and Mariano Piompino a/k/a Mario Pino a/k/a Mo Pino a/k/a Mike Pino, an individual (“Piompino”) (collectively, the “Defendants”), and alleges as follows:

1. The Attorney General brings this enforcement action to, among other things, obtain permanent injunctive relief, consumer restitution, rescission, declaratory relief, and civil penalties for Defendants' acts or practices in violation of the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, Chapter 501, Part II, Florida Statutes ("FDUTPA") and the Consumer Review Fairness Act of 2016, 15 U.S.C. § 45b ("CRFA"), in connection with Defendants' scheme described herein.

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

2. Since July, 2019, the Attorney General has become aware of at least 287 complaints from consumers in Florida and nationwide regarding Defendants' sale of molecular hydrogen water machines. Defendants entice consumers into purchasing the molecular hydrogen water machines by deceptively advertising that water from the machines provides "wide-ranging health benefits" for "over 170 diseases," including, but not limited to, COVID-19 and other viruses, diabetes, cancer, depression, skin disorders, lupus, and other chronic ailments.

3. Defendants further entice customers by promising reimbursements of the purchase price of water machines in the form of a monthly participation fee for those consumers who participate in a Trusii Case Study ("Case Study"). To join the Case Study, consumers execute a form contract with standardized terms without the consumer's meaningful opportunity to negotiate the contract. The study requires that consumers answer regular questionnaires, provide Trusii with consistent, positive feedback, and post positive social media testimonials. Consumers are told that if they fail to complete their responsibilities under the Case Study, they will be removed from it and not receive any benefits. Many consumers who submitted complaints to the Attorney General about the machines participated in the Case Study.

4. Consumers purchase the water machines via the website, Trusii.com. Consumers may purchase the water machines outright or finance the purchase through a finance company selected by Defendants. Regardless of the consumer's method of payment for the water machines, Defendants receive the consumers' funds, but either fail to deliver the water machines promptly to consumers or do not deliver them at all.

5. Defendants advertise that the water machines come with a 30-day money-back guaranty, and a three-year unconditional repair or replacement warranty. Consumers complain that the water machines do not produce water with the advertised molecular hydrogen levels and frequently develop mold, rendering the machines useless. However, when the machines develop mold, fail to produce the advertised water quality, or otherwise fail to operate, Defendants do not honor the 30-day money-back guaranty or three-year warranty.

6. Defendants do not pay or seldom pay consumers the monthly Case Study participation fees and have, on occasion, sent worthless checks to consumers. Defendants cease communicating with consumers or falsely claim that consumers did not complete the Case Study requirements.

7. Defendants convert consumers' money to their own use by using the money from the sales of water machines for their own personal expenses, including credit card payments, residential leases, trips, and exotic cars.

8. In perpetrating their scheme, Defendants violated FDUTPA and the CRFA, demonstrating a pattern of unfair and deceptive conduct, by among other things: (1) requiring consumers to sign a form contract which restricts individual consumer's ability to honestly review Defendants' products, services, or conduct, and punishes the consumer for failing to abide by the terms of the contract; (2) misrepresenting the efficacy and benefits of molecular hydrogen water machines; (3) receiving payment from consumers for the machines, but delivering the machines late or not at all; (4) promising consumers a participation fee that would reimburse the purchase price of the water machines if the consumers participated in a Case Study, but failing to pay the participation fee despite consumers' compliance with Case Study requirements; (5) failing to honor the 30-day money-back guaranty and three-year repair and replacement warranties for defective or broken water machines; (6) collecting payments for services and products for which the Defendants promised the consumer would achieve certain health and financial benefits, which the consumer did not receive or achieve; and (7) conversion of consumers' money to their own use for their own personal expenses.

9. Accordingly, pursuant to FDUTPA and the CRFA, the Attorney General brings this action to enjoin Defendants' unlawful acts and practices, and to enjoin them from engaging in any activity related to the marketing and sales of water machines, as set forth below. In addition, Plaintiff seeks civil monetary penalties for each violation of FDUTPA and the CRFA as well as remedial ancillary relief, including, but not limited to, restitution, disgorgement, rescission, pre-and post-judgment interest, and such other relief as the Court may deem necessary and appropriate.

10. Unless restrained and enjoined by the Court, Defendants are likely to continue engaging in the acts and practices alleged in this Complaint or in similar acts and practices, and funds they have obtained fraudulently may be misappropriated or otherwise dissipated.

35. At all times material, Defendants engaged in “trade or commerce” as defined in section 501.203(8), Florida Statutes, when Defendants marketed and sold molecular hydrogen water machines to consumers in Florida and nationwide and enticed consumers of the machines to participate in the Case Study.

DEFENDANTS’ DECEPTIVE AND UNFAIR BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

36. Since at least February 2015, Defendants engaged in the business of marketing and selling molecular hydrogen water machines to consumers in Florida and nationwide via their web site Trusii.com, telemarketing, health fairs, and other marketing methods. Since July, 2019, Plaintiff has received over 287 complaints from consumers in Florida and nationwide regarding Defendants’ deceptive and unfair business activities.

37. Defendants describe their molecular hydrogen system as a “revolution in health, anti-aging, and performance.”

38. Defendants sell two molecular hydrogen water machines: the “H2ProElite System<sup>1</sup>” and the “H2EliteX System.<sup>2</sup>” According to Trusii.com, both machines include a thirty-day moneyback guarantee and a three-year unconditional repair or replacement warranty.

39. Defendants advertise that the H2ProElite System produces an average molecular hydrogen water content of 3.5 parts per million (ppm) to 6.0 ppm and the H2EliteX System produces an average molecular hydrogen water content of 4.5 ppm to 8.5 ppm. However, the manufacturer, Hygen Tech Solutions, advertises that the machines produce an average molecular hydrogen content of 3 to 4 ppm.

40. The Trusii.com website and research pages claim that water from the Trusii molecular hydrogen water machines provides “wide-ranging health benefits” for “over 170 diseases” including, but not limited to, viruses, diabetes, cancer, brain injuries, depression, skin disorders, lupus, and other chronic ailments. Recently, a Facebook page headlined Trusii as a “New, Simple, and Effective Way to Defeat Viruses” underneath a photo of the COVID-19 Virus.

41. Defendants offer consumers the opportunity to receive a rebate, in the form of a monthly participation fee, of some or all of the purchase price of the water machines by submitting a health questionnaire for approval and agreeing to be part of a Case Study. To join the Case Study, consumers are required to sign a form contract titled H2 Case Study Information & Marketing

<sup>1</sup> The H2ProElite System was listed at $6,720 per unit but is currently (as of what date? ) on sale for $3,450.

<sup>2</sup> The H2EliteX System was listed at $9,770 per unit but is currently (date) on sale for $4,950.

Program Participation Agreement (“Participant Agreement”). A true and correct copy of a Participant Agreement is attached as Exhibit “1.”

42. Most of the consumers that filed complaints with the Attorney General regarding Defendants’ water machines signed up for the Case Study and executed a Participant Agreement.

43. The Participant Agreement is imposed on the consumer without a meaningful opportunity for the consumer to negotiate its terms. The Participant Agreement requires consumers, among other things, to:

- a. complete a baseline health history;
- b. like or follow at least three of Trusii’s social media accounts;
- c. post photographs of the water machines “with a caption about how excited they are to get started”;
- d. leave a positive review of the water system on the Trusii.com product page after 30 days;
- e. complete a progress questionnaire every month within five days of receipt of the questionnaire;
- f. post a photo and/or video on their own social media accounts expressing the “benefits experienced” since using the water machines, at least once a month;
- g. leave a message on an 800 telephone number and deliver a brief testimonial about the consumer’s progress and benefits of using the water machines; and
- h. conduct a recorded interview with a Case Study representative, if requested.

44. The Participation Agreement further provides that if a consumer fails to complete the questionnaires, interviews, social media posts, voice messages, or reviews each month “they will be removed” from the Case Study, without any further obligation from Trusii. Ex. 1., p. 4.

45. Defendants generally, but not always, pay one or two participation fees to consumers for the Case Study, then cease making payments altogether. Some consumers have not received any participation fees at all. When consumers question Defendants regarding their failure to pay the participation fees, Defendants assert that the consumers have failed to comply with the terms of the Participation Agreement and that they are therefore not entitled to payment, or that their checks are in the mail but the checks never arrive.

46. On occasion, Defendants sent participation fees to consumers via worthless checks, or checks written on closed accounts.

47. Consumers may purchase the water machines through a finance company selected by Defendants. Consumers who finance their purchase take out a loan from finance companies such as Greensky, Aqua Finance, United Consumer Financial Services, or United Midwest Savings at high rates of interest. Consumers may also pay for the machines without using the finance company.

48. Defendants receive consumers' funds from each consumer's purchase of water machines, regardless of whether the consumer finances the purchase or purchases it outright.

49. Even though Defendants receive funds for the water machines, many consumers report that Defendants did not deliver the water machines until months after the purchase, and months after they had started making loan payments.

50. The water machines are often defective when delivered and/or develop mold shortly after purchase.

51. If a defective water machine is delivered, or if a water machine is delivered months after purchase and the consumer no longer wants it, Defendants do not honor the 30-day money-back guaranty. Instead, Defendants advise consumers that the 30-day guaranty began to run on the date a consumer purchased the water machines rather than on the delivery date, often months after the purchase date.

52. Defendants do not honor the three-year unconditional repair or replacement warranty, advising consumers that the machines require specialized service consultants for repair work but never providing the service, repair, or replacement and never sending a service consultant to repair a defective machine.

53. Consumers report that Defendants are consistently difficult to contact, do not respond to emails, do not answer their telephones, and do not return voice mail messages. This is particularly so when consumers have not received participation checks, or have faulty water machines that need service.

54. Defendants convert consumers' money to their own use for their own personal expenses.

THE FLORIDA DECEPTIVE AND UNFAIR TRADE PRACTICES ACT

55. Section 501.204(1), Florida Statutes, states that “[u]nfair methods of competition, unconscionable acts or practices, and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce are hereby declared unlawful.”

56. Section 501.203(8), Florida Statutes, defines “[t]rade or commerce” as: the advertising, soliciting, providing, offering, or distributing, whether by sale, rental, or otherwise, of any good or service, or any property, whether tangible or intangible, or any other article, commodity, or thing of value, wherever situated. “Trade or commerce” shall include the conduct of any trade or commerce, however denominated, including any nonprofit or not-for-profit person or activity.

57. The provisions of FDUTPA shall be “construed liberally” to promote and “protect the consuming public and legitimate business enterprises from those who engage in unfair methods of competition, or unconscionable, deceptive, or unfair acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce.” § 501.202, Fla. Stat.

58. Section 501.203(3), Florida Statutes, establishes that a violation of (a) any rules promulgated pursuant to FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. ss. 41 et seq.; (b) the standards of unfairness and deception set forth and interpreted by the FTC or the federal courts; or (c) any law, statute, rule, regulation, or ordinance which proscribes unfair methods of competition, or unfair, deceptive, or unconscionable acts or practices, is a per se violation of FDUTPA and is subject to the penalties and remedies provided for such violations.

59. A person that willfully engages in a deceptive or unfair act or practice is liable for a civil penalty of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) for each such violation, pursuant to section 501.2075, Florida Statutes, and Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000.00) for each violation victimizing a senior citizen or person who has a disability. Willful violations occur when the person knew or should have known that the conduct in question was deceptive or unfair or prohibited by rule, pursuant to section 501.2075, Florida Statutes.

91. Consumers have suffered and will continue to suffer substantial injury as a result of Defendants' violations of FDUTPA and the CRFA. In addition, Defendants have been unjustly enriched as a result of their unlawful acts or practices. Absent injunctive relief by this Court, Defendants are likely to continue to injure consumers, reap unjust enrichment, and harm the public interest.

COUNT III
VIOLATIONS OF CRFA CONSTITUTING PER SE VIOLATIONS OF FDUTPA
(All Defendants)

92. Plaintiff adopts, incorporates and re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 66 as if fully set forth herein.

93. Defendants offered, in the course of selling molecular hydrogen water machines to consumers in Florida and nationwide, "form contracts," specifically the Participant Agreement (Ex. 1). The Participant Agreement is imposed on consumers without a meaningful opportunity for those consumers to negotiate the standardized terms, in violation of the CRFA, 15 U.S.C. § 45b(b)(1)(A).

94. The Participant Agreement contains provisions that bar or limit the ability of consumers who purchase Defendants' water machines from engaging in unrestricted reviews, performance assessments, and similar analyses of Defendants' goods, services, or conduct, by requiring a certain number of "positive" reviews on specific social media sites by a certain date, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 45(b)(1)(A).

95. The Participant Agreement punishes the consumer because a consumer's failure to "complete the questionnaires, interviews, social media posts, voice messages, or reviews . . . will result in their removal from the Case Study," and result in the loss of the payment of the participation fee, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 45(b)(1)(B).

96. Defendants' acts and practices, as described above, violate the CRFA, which constitutes per se violations of FDUTPA, and subjects Defendants to the penalties and remedies provided for such violations under FDUTPA.

97. Defendants have violated and will continue to violate FDUTPA, by offering form contracts that limit the consumer from engaging in unrestricted reviews, performance assessments, and similar analyses of Defendants' goods, services, or conduct, by requiring a certain number of "positive" reviews on specific social media sites by a certain date, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 45(b)(1)(A).

98. Defendants have violated and will continue to violate FDUTPA, by offering form contracts that punishes the consumer because a consumer's failure to "complete the questionnaires, interviews, social media posts, voice messages, or reviews . . . will result in their removal from the Case Study," and result in the loss of the payment of the participation fee, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 45(b)(1)(B).

99. The above-described acts and practices by Defendants have injured and will likely continue to injure and prejudice the public and consumers in the State of Florida and elsewhere. Unless Defendants are permanently enjoined from engaging further in the acts and practices complained of herein, the continued activities of Defendants will result in irreparable injury to the public and consumers in the State of Florida for which there is no adequate remedy at law.

COUNT IV
DECLARATORY JUDGMENT
(All Defendants)

100. Plaintiff adopts, incorporates and re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 66 as if fully set forth herein.

101. The CRFA renders void, and prohibits the offering of, provisions in form contracts that restrict individual consumer's ability to communicate reviews, performance assessments, and similar analyses about a seller's products, services, or conduct. 15 U.S.C. § 45b(b)(1)(A).

102. The CRFA also renders void and prohibits a contract that imposes a penalty or fee against an individual who is a party to the form contract for engaging in a protected communication. 15 U.S.C. § 45b(b)(1)(B).

103. Because of the foregoing described facts, an actual, present and justiciable controversy exists between Plaintiff and Defendants as to whether Trusii's contracts with consumers are void.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, Office of the Attorney General, State of Florida, Department of Legal Affairs, respectfully requests that the Court provide the following relief:

A. Award final judgment against Defendants, jointly and severally, ordering equitable relief in the form including, but not limited to, financial relief, full reimbursement or full restitution to Florida consumers harmed by Defendants' unfair and deceptive acts in violation of FDUTPA, disgorgement, repatriation of assets to satisfy any judgment, and any other appropriate relief pursuant to section 501.207(3), Florida Statutes;

B. Assess against Defendants, jointly and severally, civil penalties in the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) for each violation of FDUTPA in accordance with section 501.2075, Florida Statutes, and Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) for each violation that victimized or attempted to victimize a senior citizen or person who has a disability in accordance with section 501.277, Florida Statutes;

C. Declare that Trusii's Participation Agreements with consumers are void;

C. Permanently enjoin Defendants, their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and those persons in active concert or participation with them, who receive actual notice of the injunction, from engaging in the acts and practices in violation of provisions of FDUTPA and the CRFA as specifically alleged above and any similar acts and unfair business practices regarding consumers;

D. Award the Attorney General reasonable attorney's fees and costs pursuant to the provisions of section 501.2105, Florida Statutes, and as otherwise allowable by applicable statutes or law; and

E. Award such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper, including all equitable relief allowed pursuant to section 501.207(3), Florida Statutes.

Dated this 2nd day of August 2021.

Respectfully submitted,
